Caramba Rose

Rosa spp. 'Caramba'

It is very easy to get lost in the world of roses! There are all types ranging from groundcover, shrub, miniature, Hybrid-teas, and even climbing. At Jayker Wholesale, we grow a good selection of groundcover roses with some shrub and climbing roses mixed in. Among these, one in particular stands out. It is the mid-sized Caramba groundcover rose. In bloom, the Caramba is nothing short of eye-popping. The large reddish-orange blooms with yellow centers literally leap out at you from the sea of color in the nursery! Upon closer inspection, one notices a slight fragrance and a self-cleaning habit (little deadheading). Blooms begin in early summer, rejuvenate quickly, and provide continuous color until mid-fall. Mass plantings, border plantings, and foundation plantings are perfect for this highly pest and disease resistant rose.

Nursery Notes:

At long last, Spring has arrived at the nursery. Our Jayker Grown shrubs and perennials are waking up and new plants and trees are arriving every week. We are excited about a new feature on our web site, the photo gallery. Our staff is busy taking pictures of our field trees which you can see at Jayker.com. The pears are almost finished blooming and the crabapples are opening. And if we had smell-o-vision you would be amazed at the fragrance of the Toba Hawthorns. We invite you to come visit and see the beautiful Spring colors and smells.
